Mainline Information Systems Wins IBM Leadership Awards

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. – Mainline Information Systems has once again been recognized by IBM with key leadership awards. At IBM's PartnerWorld 2007 conference held in April, Mainline was presented the IBM Business Leadership Award and the IBM Revenue Growth Leadership Award, along with the IBM Beacon Award for SMB Teaming solution (read more about the Beacon Award).

The IBM Business Leadership Award recognizes IBM Premier Business Partners who distinguish themselves among their peers. Mainline was identified for special recognition of their success in selling IBM products and solutions and was nominated by the IBM Channels team for the award. Only 17 companies received this award, from among the more than 3,000 firms selling IBM servers in the Americas, truly recognizing the top partners among all partners. Winners for this award are selected on the basis of their excellence in key areas, including commitment to IBM, competence, customer satisfaction and contribution in the form of business results.

The IBM Revenue Growth Leadership Award is given to Business Partners with the highest revenue growth from the prior year.

"Mainline is proud to have worked closely with IBM for more than 18 years now," said Rick Schultz, Senior Vice President of Strategic Growth Initiatives for Mainline. "We are pleased to be recognized in these areas by IBM. This is definitely a tribute to our account teams, to our customer service and to our commitment to IBM. We look forward to continuing to contribute distinguishable, compelling and prosperous business results."
